BALD SPOT SPORTS RELOCATES TO WHITESTOWN, INDIANA BECAUSE OF GROWTH

Indianapolis - December 2005 - Bald Spot Sports [BSS] is relocating to Whitestown, Indiana to expand its racing seat production shop, race team garage and main store. Company co-founder Glen Macdonald said, " We are excited to have more room to increase the size of our production shop now that the industry has begun to recognize the superior quality of our product."

The new BSS headquarters also features an expanded research and development laboratory that can be shared with engineers from Createc Corporation when new products are being created and force reduction properties are being assessed.

Macdonald added, "Our international business really took off in 2005. Convenient highway access from the Perry Industrial Park will make our export growth much easier. We are just glad to remain near Indianapolis which remains a great racing city in the USA."

BSS will continue the practice of traveling from the new headquarters to make custom seats for clients in their own garages. Seat finishing work and CNC assembly will also occur at the new headquarters. The BSS store will continue to carry a variety of BSS foam racing equipment and Impact Racing gear and will be open daily during the week. ###
